

The solar park of Laspeyres delivers its first kilowatt-hours in Occitania

12 Oct 2021

Voltalia (Euronext Paris ISIN code: FR0011995588), an international player in renewable energies, announces today that it has commissioned its solar power plant located in the commune of Marignac-Laspeyres, in Occitania.

Commissioned on September 30, the solar power plant has a capacity of 5 megawatts and its green energy production will cover the domestic electricity needs (excluding heating) of approximately 3,500 inhabitants. It is integrated into a site of 11.7 hectares and has 11,500 solar panels. The plant is backed by a 20-year electricity sales contract.

Built on a former stone quarry, the solar power plant has enabled the conversion of this degraded site into a center for the production of electricity from renewable energy. This is a fine example of rehabilitation and the result of joint work with the municipality, the owner of the land, as well as with all the stakeholders in the area. The Laspeyres solar power plant thus contributes to the objective set by the Occitania region: to become the first positive energy region in Europe.
