MARKET ANALYST – Intern

(M/F)

MISSIONS:

The Market Intelligence Team is responsible for collecting, analyzing and delivering strategic information related to target markets of the International Development Department in Europe, Latin America, Middle-East and Africa. In addition to following-up on global/cross-regional market trends and initiatives, the team provides daily support to business origination and development through market analysis, competitive intelligence or communication/marketing.

We are looking for an Intern to support the global activity of our Team, who will perform the following activities:

- Collect/update market information in strategic markets and deliver synthetic analysis, mainly through country reports and notes;
- Participate in the preparation/submission of applications to international tenders' prequalification processes;
- Support the prospection activities in the commercial and industrial sector (identification of potential clients and initial analysis);
- Contribute to the development of internal tools dedicated to (1) the evaluation of competitors and partners and (2) the mapping of the Department's current markets and opportunities
- Attend meetings, conferences and events related to cross-regional or country-specific topics
